

PADI RESCUE DIVER COURSE

Dive2go staff has been training new divers through to Instructors in Australia & the South Pacific for more than 25 years. Exploration, excitement and experiences are what scuba diving is all about. The PADI Rescue Diver course is described by scuba divers as the most challenging, yet most rewarding course they've ever taken. Why? Because you learn to prevent and manage problems in the water and become more confident in your skills as a diver, knowing that you can help others if needed. During the course, you learn to become a better buddy by practicing problem solving skills until they become second nature. Plus, the course is just fun – it's serious, but still allows for lots of laughter in between the focused learning.

What you will learn?

The PADI Rescue Diver course prepares you to deal with dive emergencies, minor and major, using a variety of techniques. Through knowledge development and rescue exercises, you learn what to look for and how to respond. During rescue scenarios, you put into practice your knowledge and skills. Topics include:

- Self – Rescue
- Recognizing and managing stress in other divers
- Emergency management and equipment
- Rescuing panicked divers
- Rescuing unresponsive divers

What scuba gear will you use?

Along with your basic scuba equipment, you'll use additional rescue equipment like pocket masks, first aid and oxygen units.

What learning materials will you use?

You'll use the PADI Rescue Diver Crew-Pak, which introduces you to each of the Rescue Exercises and skills. By studying before class, you'll be better prepared for the thrill of exploring the underwater world.

What do you need to enrol in the PADI Rescue Diver course?

You must:

- A PADI Advanced Open Water Diver
